

PRESS RELEASE

SO GOOD THEY WON IT TWICE

The Brookwood Partnership was honoured to have been recognised by The Sunday Times 100 Best Companies To Work For 2010, the only contract caterer to have been listed.

Brookwood achieved 54th position in the list, which is up from 81st in their 2008 award. They believe this reflects the work they have invested on employee communication, especially with the introduction of Brookwood TV.

Brookwood was 24th in the category of wellbeing for all companies listed. Employees felt they were not stressed or under pressure. They also felt they had a good balance between their work and home life and that this had a positive effect on their health and performance.

Top marks were also achieved in relation to team spirit, having fun at work and feeling a sense of belonging to Brookwood. In turn, employees feel that, within their job, they can make a difference to the organisation. Employees take value and pride in working for Brookwood.

Brookwood scored very well within the leadership category, displaying that employees felt positively towards the Managing Partners, senior management and felt very positively towards the values and philosophies of Brookwood.

Brookwood ranked within the top 33 companies in the country in relation to management. Employees reported feeling supported, trusted and cared for by their immediate manager.
